Refreshing Sights in Norway | June 2009

Stavanger - A Weekend less ordinary

Fly into Stavanger this summer for a refreshing sight. Norway's most cosmopolitan city offers something that no other country can: the incomparable fjords. After exploring our picturesque streets, vibrant nightlife and the extraordinary cultural scene you could check out another spectacle, the awe inspiring 604 metres high Pulpit Rock. As you take in the view you'll appreciate why the Norwegian Fjords have been voted the most unspoiled travel destination in the world.

For a breathtaking tour in this area, take a sightseeing boat to Preikestolen and the other sights of Fantahåla. The tour continues by coach to an old dairy and a candle factory. We drive through Northern Europe's largest scree and along the sandy beaches. Duration approx. 5 hrs. For bookings call Veteran Fjordcruise AS at 51 53 85 85.

City Break or Country Break

Why not have both?

Beautiful, historic, cultural and inspiring Oslo - Norway's capital city lies at the top of the stunning Oslofjord, surrounded by wooded hills. The combination of city attractions and spectacular countryside around nearby Lillehammer and Trysil makes the Oslo region a truly unique short break destination and it's less than two hours away from the UK.

Spend the night in a lighthouse in the middle of the most beautiful town in Norway

The chic Hotel Brosundet in Ålesund has a perfect location in the beautiful Brosundet sound in the famous Art Nouveau town. The hotel has recently been refurbished and opened its doors on 1 April this year. Later this year the hotel will open its new special Room 47 - a small lighthouse in the charming harbour in the middle of Ålesund! The old picturesque Molja seawall is situated only a few minutes walk from the hotel, and Room 47 is the old lighthouse at the end of this rocky wall. Room 47 is just 12 square metres and round. The lighthouse has been restored and it is furnished with a bed and bathroom facilities of the highest quality. Room 47 is a hide-away and a thrilling experience. It should be shared with someone special.

Visit Nordland for a whale of a time!

Nordland is a continual meeting of sea and land. You will be inspired by the blue-black mountains, decorated in many places with patches of snow, even in summer. Contrasting beautifully with green hillsides, the mountains rise above the crystal clear, azure ocean and create a dramatic setting for the vital fishing hamlets. Here you can stroll on long, white sandy beaches, just like in much more southerly locations. Or go on a whale safaris from Andenes and Stø. They are on offer all summer. Experienced skippers and guides will make your holiday safari a whale of a time!

If you are unlucky and do not to see a whale on your first trip, you get another one free.
